PREFACE.

It is with becoming modesty that we present to the citizens of Fort Wayne the first issue of our "Fort Wayne City and Business Directory." Being aware that those who have preceded us have been perfectly acquainted with Directory publishing, we make no pretensions to superiority, but with a proper spirit of confidence in ourself leave the book to be judged as it deserves by our subscribers.

P. S. At the burning of the Times Office, on the 24th of March we lost the whole of our first edition, which was completed and ready for the Binder, But through the kindness and assistance of Mr. Dawson, editor of the Times, have been enabled to reproduce it.

Dawson's Fort Wayne Daily and Weekly Times. The Weekly was established A. D. 1840, as the organ of the Whig Party, under the name of "The Fort Wayne Times." In the latter part of the year 1844, the "Peoples' Press" was united to the Times and the paper called the "Fort Wayne Times and People's Press." In the beginning of September, 1853, and at the commencement of Vol. 14, John W. Dawson became the sole Editor, in June 1854, the sole Proprietor, and in Sept. of the same year sole Editor and Proprietor, having changed the name of the paper to "The Fort Wayne Times." On the 16th July, 1855 the "Fort Wayne Daily Times" was commenced and on the first of September of that year the Weekly name was changed to "The Fort Wayne Weekly Times." The Daily was continued for one year and then discontinued until Feb. 1st., 1859 when it was revived under the name of "Dawson's Fort Wayne Daily Times," and the beginning of Vol. 20th of the Weekly about the 1st Sept. 1859, the Weekly assumed the name of "Dawson's Fort Wayne Weekly Times," and under these names the said papers are published — conducted by John W. Dawson, as Independent Whig Journals.
